

Danneli & Josef

Danneli and Josef married on December 10, 2011 at a fabulous, but personal "lace and pearls" themed wedding at Umbali Lodge, Nelspruit. Soft and elegant flower arrangements along with intricate details and old cars all contributed to the essence of the day. "My most special moment was having my niece from New Zealand be my flower girl, my dad's speech and my husband sing to me," said Danni. "We are a little derby like that, but that's what makes it special".
Laigis Dawick

Brides dress: Gert van der Merwe
Hair: Ramona from Michaelangelo (8 more)
Makeup: Wynne at Michaelangelo
Flowers: Marbe
Photographer: Lucid from artisticphotography.com
Venue: umbali.co.za

Morgan & Brett

Brett and I decided to say our vows to each other at sunset in the wine-ages bush of the Sabi Sands Private Game Reserve in South Africa. Countless moments were exchanged between our travel consultant, myself, and the amazing team at China China to create the perfect setting for our special moment. Bags upon bags of new jewelry were ordered for the bride. An unusual duo of musicians (a classical violinist and an African drummer) were hired to create the perfect background melody. Pink roses were selected for bouquets, boutonnières, and centerpieces. Pink Champagne was ordered for celebratory toasting.

A perfect spot was chosen and decorated with lanterns and candles galore. And of course, a minister was hired to bless the union and the marriage. For how many guests you might ask? Well...for none. It was just Brett and myself (and our new friends at China China). This is all you really need though, right?
A Bride and a Groom.

Brides dress: Morgan
Hair: Worgan
Makeup: Worgan
Flowers: Remotik Flowers - Hazyline
Music: www.chinainc.com
Photographer: artisticphotography.com
Venue: ChinaChina.com

